WILL MAKE A SCHOOL SURVEY

TEACHERS OF COUNTY ASKED TO COMMUNICATE WITH COM'L CLUB

A REGISTRAT' 'IST

State Historical Society COLUMBIA

Names of Schools Who Have Teachers Requested by Co. Superintendent Cooper.

In order that it may be possible to supply the schools with the best teachers available it is necessary to know whether the county has enough good teachers for the schools that have not yet hired, a survey of the conditions is necessary. Every school is asked to notify County Superintendent Bert Cooper whether they have employed a teacher or not and if so who they have employed.

Every teacher that has not yet secured a position for next year is asked to drop a card or come in and register with the Commercial Club Secretary George A. Pickens or with County Superintendent Cooper, stating the amount of school preparation they have had and the experience in teaching. They must be sure to send their present address and their home address with references so that if they do not live in the county letters will be written to parties who know of them and their previous record.

It is hoped that every person interested in the welfare of the schools of the county for next year take an interest in this important move. No registration fee will be charged teachers for listing their names and the Commercial Club asks that the teachers register as early as possible with them as the good position are being taken up rapidly now. The County Superintendent is very anxious to get the names of all the schools that have not yet hired as well as those who have hired so that the home teachers who are efficient may be utilized and if there is any shortage outside teachers may be secured before the good ones are all hired. We want to protect our good home teachers but we want to get good teachers from outside when necessary.

The object of this registration plan is solely the best interests of both teachers and schools. Recommendations will not be made to school boards except when asked for and under no conditions should school boards recognize written recommendations that teachers carry with them. It is the policy of Nodaway county to give no written recommendations to teachers except in the form of confidential and personal letters to school boards or better for boards to call up or come in and ask the County Superintendent confidentially. He will be glad to give any information he has concerning any teacher be it good or bad.

If the schools are supplied with good teachers next year it is going to require the best possible co-operation of both teachers and school officers.

J. M. PIERCE REFUSES TO MEET THE IOWA SOLDIERS

Former Nodaway County Newspaper Man Attacked Patriotism of Iowa Men and Criticized Methods of Selling Liberty Bonds.

James M. Pierce, editor of the Iowa Homestead of Des Moines, Ia., and formerly in the newspaper business at Hopkins, has stirred up excitement in Iowa over certain published matters dealing with the patriotism of Iowa men and the criticism on the methods of selling Liberty Bonds. Dispatches from Des Moines yesterday had the following:

Des Moines, June 9.—J. M. Pierce, publisher of the Iowa Homestead, announced today that he had withdrawn his consent to meet a delegation of Council Bluffs soldiers coming here Wednesday to consult with him on certain published matters dealing with the patriotism of Iowa men and the criticism on the methods of selling Liberty Bonds.

Mr. Pierce stated that his reason for withdrawing his consent to the interview was that he had learned that it "was a political trick by his enemies to discredit him."

Council Bluffs, Ia., June 9.—If James Pierce, publisher of the Homestead, has any defense to offer for his special edition, attacking Iowa methods of raising Liberty Bond funds and the members of the Council Bluffs committee on military affairs, he had better have them ready by Wednesday morning.

For returned soldiers will on that day visit the Homestead and demand from the publisher an explanation.

Monday evening soldiers will meet here and appoint a committee of ten to present a list of questions to Mr. Pierce, which will be drawn up at this meeting.

Members of the committee today were non-committal as to the questions that would be placed before the publisher, but they did intimate that they would be strong, to the point and that a direct answer would be called for.

The community here has been quite aroused over the edition since its publication, but they decided to wait until the "boys" came home before starting any action.

The action of the proper wood, different kinds of nails which can be used to the best advantage and the actual work of planning the box so that it will be an to the farm work. The idea of the "project is carried out for each article on the display and is intended to carry the real idea of the vitalized agriculture work to the teachers from throughout the entire United States who will view it at Milwaukee.

G.O.P. SENATORS INDORSE TREATY

DESCRIBED AS HIGHLY PROFITABLE AND ENLIGHTENING

DISCOVERIES BY BORAH

German Rights in Chinese-Shantung Surrendered to Japs—Saar Valley To France.

Washington, June 10.—Their first examination of the copy of the peace treaty, which Senator Borah succeeded in having the Senate make public, was described by Republican senators today as highly profitable and enlightening. While not yet able to muster sufficient time to digest thoroughly the bulky document, Borah said he had already made two important discoveries. First, that all German rights and interests in Chinese-Shantung have been absolutely and unconditionally surrendered to the Japanese and to a far greater degree than the American people have been led to believe. Second, that the valuable and extensive Saar valley mines have been handed over to France under conditions which virtually deprives the Germans of any voice in the matter—or regardless of the principle of self-determination.

DAWSON AS SPECIAL JUDGE

Maryville Jurist Will Sit in Embezzling Case of Samuel Graham at Kansas City.

Today's Kansas City Journal had the following:

Special Judge J. M. Dawson of Maryville, sitting for Judge Porterfield of the Second division for the criminal court, yesterday, granted the thirteenth continuance to Samuel E. Graham, former resident trustee of the National Letter Carrier, who is charged with the embezzlement of $10,000 of the funds of that organization. Judge Dawson set the hearing for June 23, at which time counsel for the defense announced they will be ready for trial.

The majority of the postponements have been caused on account of the absence from the city of Frank P. Walsh, chief counsel for Graham. Some of them were requested because he was a member of the war labor board, but the one yesterday was asked because he now is in Paris in the interest of Irish freedom, and is expected to return to this country soon.

The Graham case has been on the criminal docket since June, 1916, when it was filed in Judge Latshaw's division of the criminal court. Graham's attorneys later secured a change of venue to Judge Porterfield's division, and Judge Porterfield disqualified himself and appointed Judge Dawson.

GOLD STAR HERO PRAISED BY PALS

JAMES E. GRAY, FIRST MARYVILLE BOY KILLED, HIGHLY ESTEEMED

"BRAVE, GOOD LEADER"

True Patriotic Spirit Shown by Lad Killed Soon After Entering France Brother to Be Discharged Soon.

Brave, cheerful, a good leader, and the best of "buddies," members of Companies D and I of the 356th Infantry, 89th Division, which passed through Kansas City Sunday, testified to the many lovable and manly qualities of their comrade, James E. Gray, first Maryville boy to be killed in action in France.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Gray, parents of the young man who gave his life for an ideal, returned from Kansas City last night much comforted by the assurances of the regard in which their son was held by those who served with him and were near him when he was killed.

Private Chester Brackett of Brownsburg, Indiana, a member of Corporal Gray's squad and a devoted friend, had written to Mr. and Mrs. Gray expressing his desire to see them and tell them of their son's last moments, and it was a disappointment to them to find that he had been transferred from his company and sent to another demobilization point for discharge. They saw others, however, who were able to tell something of the things they wished to know, among them being Sergeant Orlin O. Kelley of Company I, who wears the Croix de Guerre and the Distinguished Service Cross.

"James," said Sergeant Kelley, who lives in Maryville, "was killed at Remonville November 2. We had halted in this village for relief and James was leaning against the wall of a building, when a shell exploded and a piece of shrapnel lodged in his neck, cutting the juglar vein. He died almost instantly." He was buried with the ceremonies of war by his comrades.

James E. Gray was a student at the University of Missouri, when he was accepted for service on his eighth examination after being rejected seven times. He appealed to the Nodaway County draft board to be qualified for active duty and his wish was granted. He received about two weeks training at Camp Funston and was then sent to France with Company D, 356th Infantry, 89th Division.

In detention camp he was picked out as corporal and given the option of remaining as a drill instructor, which he refused, preferring to be placed on active duty. He served with his company in the famous St. Mihiel drive and later participated in a battalion raid in which Company D lost a large proportion of its men. At this time he was corporal of a messenger squad, carrying messages from headquarters to the front line trenches.

October 26 Corporal Gray was transferred to Company I and made corporal of a bombing squad. In the succeeding action Company I is reported to have lost all but tweleve men.

Young Gray was unanimously commended by both officers and men. His most noticeable characteristics were never failing cheerfulness and apparent lack of fear or nervousness under the most strenuous conditions. He was killed November 2, nine days before the armistice was signed.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray have received word that another son, Leonard, arrived in Boston Sunday and will soon be discharged. Telegrams announcing his arrival came almost simultaneously from himself and the Salvation Army.

Leonard was also in the thickest of the fighting. At the time his brother was killed he was stationed only ten miles away at Mount Falcon. He was with the 315th Ammunition Train, 90th Division, and while bringing up ammunition in the Argonne fighting, mashed a finger which was later amputated.

Jack Holt Returns.

Jack Holt, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Holt, returned home this morning from Camp Dodge, Ia., having been honorably discharged. He had served overseas for sixteen months with the 344th Aero Squadron. In New York, he visited with his brother, Lieut. Com. Waldo Holt.

GEO. WASHINGTON HAD NOTHING OVER THIS LAD

Orlie Stutesman's Interest in This Vitalized Agriculture Work Almost Ended in Disaster.

The story of George Washington and the cherry tree has a parallel here in Nodaway county in connection with the vitalized agriculture work which is now receiving such a prominent place in the rural schools.

Orlie Stutesman, 12 years old, of the Bunker Hill school, is a member of a class before which the problem of making nail boxes was recently presented, each child to furnish the material for the box. Orlie scanned the premises of his home, but could find no board which would answer the purpose. At his wits end, he looked in the direction of his father's hen house and there was the very thing, ideal in dimension and material. Orlie ripped it off and took it.

The elder Stutesman naturally displayed anger when he discovered the board missing and most of his hens at large. He called his son to his side and asked if he could explain the missing board. "I took it," replied Orlie, "for my agriculture work at school." "You are forgiven," said the father.

EXPECT INCREASE IN THE VALUATION OF PROPERTY

State Board of Equalization Contemplates a Considerable Increase in Value of Property.

Jefferson City, June 10.—That the State Board of Equalization contemplates a considerable increase in the valuation of real and personal property, has been admitted by a member of that body.

"Our increase will approximate twenty per cent," he says, "and it will bring about $700,000 more in taxes into the treasury of which approximately $400,000 will go to the general revenue fund."

The same member states further that work of equalization will be along the line of increased values of property out in the state.

The board is collaborating with the new State Tax Commission in considering the increase that is to be made over the valuation of last year.

INDIAN TIRES OF FARM SO ENLISTS IN ARMY.

Kansas City, June 10.—Sam H. Willis a Choctaw Indian, nineteen years old, and from Kiowa, Oklahoma, is tired of the oil fields of his native state. He wants to see something new—something in Germaany, for instance.

"I'm really a native with the oldest American blood in me," said Willis, in good English, to Corporal A. L. Anderson of the Army Recruiting Station here. "I'm tired of these new oil towns in Oklahoma and the new big farms that are all over America. I think France and the Rhine river country would be pretty good to see."

So Private Sam H. Willis will see something of other countries than the land of his ancestors, for he has enlisted for three years.

GOV. GARDNER'S VOTE MEANS $30,000 LOSS TO S. T. A.

Gardner Holds up the Appropriation Bill for State Institutions Until Released by His Order.

Governor Gardner has held up $29,500 of the appropriation of the State Teachers College of this city from payment until such time as released by his order. Saturday Governor Gardner vetoed items in the appropriation bill and for the College here it was $30,000.

The amount of money appropriated for state departments and state institutions held up by Givernor Gardner from payment until such time as released by his order is $1,297,256. This added to the amount of items he vetoed in the general appropriation bills last Saturday makes a total of $2,503,679.

The parts of appropriations suspended by the governor order were filed with the state auditor last night. In each instance the governor exacted a written contract with the parties concerned that no effort would be made to draw the money held in escrow, so to speak, unless released by his order. If the governor believes sufficient revenue has been collected to meet the various items held up, he will, at his option, release all or a part of the original amount.

The sums vetoed and the amount held up up will bring the total appropriation" within 18 million dollars as the governor estimated last Saturday, and within one million dollars of the estimated revenue. The state board of equalization will be expected to fill in the gap by increasing assessments of real estate, personal property and corporations about 20 per cent over the valuation of last year.

HOUND PUP TRAPS I. W. W.

Monrovia, Cal., June 10.—To one long-eared hound pup goes the honor of catching an I. W. W. in this district. Deputy Sheriff Couts, after firing two shots at the fleeing agitator, lost sight of the man in an orange grove. The pup was watching the chase, barking with glee. Couts, completely baffled, looked down at the dog which had run to his side. "Sic him, pup," said the sheriff. The hound pup ran down the orange grove a hundred yards, lifted his front paws against the trunk of a tree and, barking furiously, looked first up the tree, then at Couts. The sheriff followed and arrested the man.

LIGHTNING STRIKES BUT MAID FAILS TO AWAKEN

Logansport, Ind., June 10.—When lighning struck the home of W. W. McDonald near this city, a strip of the roof three feet wide was torn away, and the dresser in the room where the maid slept was completely demolished. Realizing that the room in which the maid slept had been hit, McDonald rushed upstairs expecting to find the girl dead. She was still sleeping.

GIRL KILLS SIX WOLVES.

Richmond, Mo., June 10.—Rose May Bowers, a sixteen-year-old Richmond school girl, earned $16 in a way that probably few other girls would care to earn money. GOT BOOZE AND GIRLS BUT ARRESTS FOLLOWED.

Kansas City, June 10.—"We want some booze, George. Can we get it here" asked two soldiers of James Warren, the negro porter of a hotel here.

"Yessah—yessah; but mah name's James, not George," said the porter as he turned to leave the room.

"All right, James; and a couple of girls, too," one replied.

"Sho, boss," replied the porter. Soon two girls and a bottle or two of booze came to the room.

Just then three men walked into the room and arrested the two girls. One of the men was Lieutenant Joe Haberkorn, in charge of the military police here. The other two were government agents. The negro porter, the hotel manager, with the two girls were arrested. The police are said to have refused to raid the hotel.

FILLS HOBO WITH SHOT; THOUGHT HIM GROUNDHOG.

Mitchell, Ind., June 10.—James Childers, a discharged soldier, took a shot gun and went out along the right-of-way of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern Railroad to look for ground hogs. He saw the grass move, fired and up jumped a tramp.

The tramp was brought to the office of a local surgeon and about eighty fine shot were picked from the man's face and body. The man had on several suits of clothing, which protected him from serious injury.

EXAM FOR CHAUFFEURS.

St. Louis, June 10.—Chauffeurs who are color blind, weak, have poor eyesight or poor hearing—or who happen to be subject to apoplexy—may soon be seeking other employment.

Directors of Streets and Sewers Talbert next week will open a "laboratory for the determination of the physical fitness of chauffeurs employed for hire. The first step will be to examine chauffeurs employed by the Columbia Transfer Company. This is to be done at the request of P. J. Kelleher, manager.

The examination will be to ascertain how far the men can see a traffic policeman; if they can distinguish colors; if they have good hearing and if they are subject to apoplexy. If the tests are found to work successfully, Talbert will introduce a measure in the Board of Aldermen requiring all chauffeurs to undergo the examination before licenses are issued.

"In the meantime," said the commissioner," I would like to have all persons interested submit suggestions for tests that might be adopted."

QUALITY and SERVICE.

SHE will never be happy until she has a home of her own. Hardly a day passes that she does not think of HER home, as she would have it. It is to be a place of comfort, contentment and harmony; it is to be practical, convenient, beautiful.

She has thought of its interior plan and sketched its room arrangements; she has pictured to herself just how it will look outside.

Nothing takes the place of this home, and NOW is the time to build. No man was ever better able to build than now—the price of building material as compared with other things it not at all unreasonable, and there is no chance of it getting cheaper. High wages, short age of labor and the increasing difficulty in getting out lumber, are responsible for increased prices, and these things will probably cause further advances.

However, none of us would return to the old low price levels, because there is more prosperity when great activity causes good prices—and no one can afford to go without a home in the expectation that prices will be lower, because if they do get lower, all money will be scarcer and the home will be harder to get than it is now.

Sergt. Kelley was a member of Company I, 356th Infantry. Prior to enlisting in the army he had served four years in the United States Navy. His wife, who was formerly Miss Mattie Clayton, is a Maryville girl.

HALE'S CHURCH DEDICATED

New Structure Formally Opened in St. Louis of Which Former Maryville Man Is Pastor.

The Delmar Baptist church of St. Louis, of which the Rev. L. M. Hale, formerly of Maryville, is pastor, was dedicated Sunday. The following is from the St. Louis Republic:

The final and formal services in dedication of the new edifice of the Delmar Baptist church, Washington avenue and Skinker road, were held yesterday and last night, the sermons of dedication being preached by Dr. Len G. Broughton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Knoxville, Tenn., who is considered one of the foremost Baptist ministers of the world.

Large audiences attended the dedication services, joining the pastor, Rev. Lewis M. Hale, in setting apart the new church as a place of worship.

At the beginning of his sermon, Dr. Broughton congratulated the pastor and members of the Delmar on their achievement in erecting so beautiful a structure. He said that an achievement like that—the erection of an architecturally beautiful church—was a spiritual poem to him.

Dr. Broughton was for a number of years pastor of Christ Church, London, England, being called to that place while serving as pastor of one of the largest churches at Atlanta, Ga. He will return to Christ Church soon to fill an engagement lasting several months. He has made many lecture and preaching trips abroad.

COP FAILS AS DEBATER

St. Louis, June 10.—Because he led the negative side of a debate on the League of Nations when he should have been walking his beat, Patrolman Adolph J. Kistler has been fined $25 and given twenty-five demerits following his trial by the Board of Police Commissioners on a charge of loitering on his beat.

JILTED, BUT IS REVENGED.

Kansas City, June 9.—A new way of venting spite against a girl who rejected his attentions was devised by Clarence Demeke, but it proved too costly for practical purposes. Demeke became infatuated with Miss Nora Helge, daughter of his landlady. Rejected, he became angry, broke open her trunk, took all her dainty clothes and put them in a tub and poured water on them. Many of them were ruined. Miss Helge and her mother had him arrested and he was fined $100 in police court.

CATHOLICS ARE 19½ MILLION.

Estimates Based on Census Are Conservative, According to Directory.

New York, June 10.—There are 17,549,324 Catholics in the United States, according to the 1919 edition of the Official Catholic Directory just published and copyrighted by P. J. Kennedy & Sons of New York. This shows a net increase of 133,021 in the number of Catholics over the preceding year. Only nine dioceses show decreases. In some dioceses no new census was taken because of unsettled conditions last year.

This Catholic population is not overestimated, according to Joseph H. Meier who has compiled the directory the last fourteen years, the figure 17,549,324 is very conservative. If the "floating" Catholic population could be recorded and if it had been possible for every diocese in the country to take a new 1918 census, the Catholic population would total over 19½ million, according to Mr. Meier. Including the possessions there are 26,332,650 Catholics under the United States flag.

Other figures taken from the copyrighted summary show that there are in the United States proper: Archbishops 14; bishops, 97; Catholic priests, 20,588; secular clergymen, 15,052; fathers belonging to religious orders, 5,536; churches with resident priests, 10,460; missions with churches, 5,537; seminaries, 110; seminarians, 7,865; parishes with schools, 5,788; children attending parochial schools, 1,633,599; orphan asylums, 294; orphans, 46,069; homes for aged, 116; colleges for boys, 215; academies for girls, 674.

According to directory twenty-eight states have a Catholic population of one hundred thousand or over, as follows:

1—New York	3,089,266
2—Pensylvania	1,867,000
3—Illinois	1,481,789

HIGH COST OF MARRYING.

Boston, June 10.— They don't marry any more as they used to in the good old 1916 and 1917 and 1918.

Reason why? "The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker," says Edward W. McGlennon, registrar of marriages at City Hall.

"The scarcity of apartments and the high cost of butter are spoiling more than one good marriage, and prospects for improvement in 1920 are not so rosy, either," the gentleman continues to explain. "Don't blame Heaven, blame the times."

But if husbands are scarcer than of yore, they are much better brand. Who says so? Registrar McGlennon again.

Having watched the merry game of matrimony for these many years. Registrar McGlennon is to be listened to, when he speaks, as a connoisseur.

"And the husband of 1919 will be more patient, more economical, more staying in o' nights, more orderly and far more generous," says Registrar McGlennon. "He learned all these things inthe army. Yes, indeed, Miss 1919, if perchance she does not get a husband may well pity in her heart Miss 1917 For husbands this year are matrimonial models. But don't thank me, nor thank the husbands. Just pay your compliments to Flanders mud, and trench life, and army roll call, and military discipline, all of which gets a man ready to stand anything—just anything—even his wedding bells."

FLANDERS FIELD TO BE REPRODUCED AT BOSTON

Boston, June 10.—There will be a "Memory Garden" this year at Franklin Park.

Flanders Field poppies will be planted in June and through the Summer months they will gleam red among the other flowers in the herbaceous garden—a reminder of American blood that is mingled forever with the soil of France.

It is a shade smaller than the Oriental poppies, which are the variety with which we are most familiar in this country.

"It will go into the ground in June out at Franklin Park," said Park Commissioner James B. Shea, "and while it will probably never grow naturally in America, there is no reason that planted from year to year the Flanders poppy cannot always be blooming in the Summer season 'over here' as well as 'over there'."

Miss May Growney went to Burlington Junction Saturday and will spend her summer vacation at "Sunnycrest," as the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. P. Cummins.

WILL MAKE A SCHOOL SURVEY

TEACHERS OF COUNTY ASKED TO COMMUNICATE WITH COM'L CLUB

A REGISTRAT' 'IST

Names of Schools Who Have Teachers Requested by Co. Superintendent Cooper.

State Historical Society COLUMBIA

In order that it may be possible to supply the schools with the best teachers available it is necessary to know whether the county has enough good teachers for the schools that have not yet hired, a survey of the conditions is necessary. Every school is asked to notify County Superintendent Bert Cooper whether they have employed a teacher or not and if so who they have employed.

Every teacher that has not yet secured a position for next year is asked to drop a card or come in and register with the Commercial Club Secretary George A. Pickens or with County Superintendent Cooper, stating the amount of school preparation they have had and the experience in teaching. They must be sure to send their present address and their home address with references so that if they do not live in the county letters will be written to parties who know of them and their previous record.

It is hoped that every person interested in the welfare of the schools of the county for next year take an interest in this important move. No registration fee will be charged teachers for listing their names and the Commercial Club asks that the teachers register as early as possible with them as the good position are being taken up rapidly now. The County Superintendent is very anxious to get the names of all the schools that have not yet hired as well as those who have hired so that the home teachers who are efficient may be utilized and if there is any shortage outside teachers may be secured before the good ones are all hired. We want to protect our good home teachers but we want to get good teachers from outside when necessary.

The object of this registration plan is solely the best interests of both teachers and schools. Recommendations will not be made to school boards except when asked for and under no conditions should school boards recognize written recommendations that teachers carry with them. It is the policy of Nodaway county to give no written recommendations to teachers except in the form of confidential and personal letters to school boards or better for boards to call up or come in and ask the County Superintendent confidentially. He will be glad to give any information he has concerning any teacher be it good or bad.

If the schools are supplied with good teachers next year it is going to require the best possible co-operation of both teachers and school officers.

J. M. PIERCE REFUSES TO MEET THE IOWA SOLDIERS

Former Nodaway County Newspaper Man Attacked Patriotism of Iowa Men and Criticized Methods of Selling Liberty Bonds.

James M. Pierce, editor of the Iowa Homestead of Des Moines, Ia., and formerly in the newspaper business at Hopkins, has stirred up excitement in Iowa over certain published matters dealing with the patriotism of Iowa men and the criticism on the methods of selling Liberty Bonds. Dispatches from Des Moines yesterday had the following:

Des Moines, June 9.—J. M. Pierce, publisher of the Iowa Homestead, announced today that he had withdrawn his consent to meet a delegation of Council Bluffs soldiers coming here Wednesday to consult with him on certain published matters dealing with the patriotism of Iowa men and the criticism on the methods of selling Liberty Bonds.

Mr. Pierce stated that his reason for withdrawing his consent to the interview was that he had learned that it "was a political trick by his enemies to discredit him."

Council Bluffs, Ia., June 9.—If James Pierce, publisher of the Homestead, has any defense to offer for his special edition, attacking Iowa methods of raising Liberty Bond funds and the members of the Council Bluffs committee on military affairs, he had better have them ready by Wednesday morning.

For returned soldiers will on that day visit the Homestead and demand from the publisher an explanation.

Monday evening soldiers will meet here and appoint a committee of ten to present a list of questions to Mr. Pierce, which will be drawn up at this meeting.

Members of the committee today were non-committal as to the questions that would be placed before the publisher, but they did intimate that they would be strong, to the point and that a direct answer would be called for.

The community here has been quite aroused over the edition since its publication, but they decided to wait until the "boys" came home before starting any action.

The action of the proper wood, different kinds of nails which can be used to the best advantage and the actual work of planning the box so that it will be an to the farm work. The idea of the "project is carried out for each article on the display and is intended to carry the real idea of the vitalized agriculture work to the teachers from throughout the entire United States who will view it at Milwaukee.

G.O.P. SENATORS INDORSE TREATY

DISCOVERIES BY BORAH

German Rights in Chinese-Shantung Surrendered to Japs—Saar Valley To France.

Washington, June 10.—Their first examination of the copy of the peace treaty, which Senator Borah succeeded in having the Senate make public, was described by Republican senators today as highly profitable and enlightening. While not yet able to muster sufficient time to digest thoroughly the bulky document, Borah said he had already made two important discoveries. First, that all German rights and interests in Chinese-Shantung have been absolutely and unconditionally surrendered to the Japanese and to a far greater degree than the American people have been led to believe. Second, that the valuable and extensive Saar valley mines have been handed over to France under conditions which virtually deprives the Germans of any voice in the matter—or regardless of the principle of self-determination.

DAWSON AS SPECIAL JUDGE

Maryville Jurist Will Sit in Embezzling Case of Samuel Graham at Kansas City.

Today's Kansas City Journal had the following:

Special Judge J. M. Dawson of Maryville, sitting for Judge Porterfield of the Second division for the criminal court, yesterday, granted the thirteenth continuance to Samuel E. Graham, former resident trustee of the National Letter Carrier, who is charged with the embezzlement of $10,000 of the funds of that organization. Judge Dawson set the hearing for June 23, at which time counsel for the defense announced they will be ready for trial.

The majority of the postponements have been caused on account of the absence from the city of Frank P. Walsh, chief counsel for Graham. Some of them were requested because he was a member of the war labor board, but the one yesterday was asked because he now is in Paris in the interest of Irish freedom, and is expected to return to this country soon.

The Graham case has been on the criminal docket since June, 1916, when it was filed in Judge Latshaw's division of the criminal court. Graham's attorneys later secured a change of venue to Judge Porterfield's division, and Judge Porterfield disqualified himself and appointed Judge Dawson.

GOLD STAR HERO PRAISED BY PALS

JAMES E. GRAY, FIRST MARYVILLE BOY KILLED, HIGHLY ESTEEMED

"BRAVE, GOOD LEADER"

True Patriotic Spirit Shown by Lad Killed Soon After Entering France Brother to Be Discharged Soon.

Brave, cheerful, a good leader, and the best of "buddies," members of Companies D and I of the 356th Infantry, 89th Division, which passed through Kansas City Sunday, testified to the many lovable and manly qualities of their comrade, James E. Gray, first Maryville boy to be killed in action in France.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Gray, parents of the young man who gave his life for an ideal, returned from Kansas City last night much comforted by the assurances of the regard in which their son was held by those who served with him and were near him when he was killed.

Private Chester Brackett of Brownsburg, Indiana, a member of Corporal Gray's squad and a devoted friend, had written to Mr. and Mrs. Gray expressing his desire to see them and tell them of their son's last moments, and it was a disappointment to them to find that he had been transferred from his company and sent to another demobilization point for discharge. They saw others, however, who were able to tell something of the things they wished to know, among them being Sergeant Orlin O. Kelley of Company I, who wears the Croix de Guerre and the Distinguished Service Cross.

"James," said Sergeant Kelley, who lives in Maryville, "was killed at Remonville November 2. We had halted in this village for relief and James was leaning against the wall of a building, when a shell exploded and a piece of shrapnel lodged in his neck, cutting the juglar vein. He died almost instantly." He was buried with the ceremonies of war by his comrades.

James E. Gray was a student at the University of Missouri, when he was accepted for service on his eighth examination after being rejected seven times. He appealed to the Nodaway County draft board to be qualified for active duty and his wish was granted. He received about two weeks training at Camp Funston and was then sent to France with Company D, 356th Infantry, 89th Division.

In detention camp he was picked out as corporal and given the option of remaining as a drill instructor, which he refused, preferring to be placed on active duty. He served with his company in the famous St. Mihiel drive and later participated in a battalion raid in which Company D lost a large proportion of its men. At this time he was corporal of a messenger squad, carrying messages from headquarters to the front line trenches.

October 26 Corporal Gray was transferred to Company I and made corporal of a bombing squad. In the succeeding action Company I is reported to have lost all but twelve men.

Young Gray was unanimously commended by both officers and men. His most noticeable characteristics were never failing cheerfulness and apparent lack of fear or nervousness under the most strenuous conditions. He was killed November 2, nine days before the armistice was signed.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray have received word that another son, Leonard, arrived in Boston Sunday and will soon be discharged. Telegrams announcing his arrival came almost simultaneously from himself and the Salvation Army.

Leonard was also in the thickest of the fighting. At the time his brother was killed he was stationed only ten miles away at Mount Falcon. He was with the 315th Ammunition Train, 90th Division, and while bringing up ammunition in the Argonne fighting, mashed a finger which was later amputated.

Jack Holt Returns.

Jack Holt, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Holt, returned home this morning from Camp Dodge, Ia., having been honorably discharged. He had served overseas for sixteen months with the 344th Aero Squadron. In New York, he visited with his brother, Lieut. Com. Waldo Holt.

GEO. WASHINGTON HAD NOTHING OVER THIS LAD

Orlie Stutesman's Interest in This Vitalized Agriculture Work Almost Ended in Disaster.

The story of George Washington and the cherry tree has a parallel here in Nodaway county in connection with the vitalized agriculture work which is now receiving such a prominent place in the rural schools.

Orlie Stutesman, 12 years old, of the Bunker Hill school, is a member of a class before which the problem of making nail boxes was recently presented, each child to furnish the material for the box. Orlie scanned the premises of his home, but could find no board which would answer the purpose. At his wits end, he looked in the direction of his father's hen house and there was the very thing, ideal in dimension and material. Orlie ripped it off and took it.

The elder Stutesman naturally displayed anger when he discovered the board missing and most of his hens at large. He called his son to his side and asked if he could explain the missing board. "I took it," replied Orlie, "for my agriculture work at school." "You are forgiven," said the father.

President Wilson has washed his hands of the whole affair, leaving the problem up to Lloyd George and Clemenceau.

"Extreme measures" were threatened if the ultimatum is rejected. EXPECT INCREASE IN THE VALUATION OF PROPERTY

State Board of Equalization Contemplates a Considerable Increase in Value of Property.

Jefferson City, June 10.—That the State Board of Equalization contemplates a considerable increase in the valuation of real and personal property, has been admitted by a member of that body.

"Our increase will approximate twenty per cent," he says, "and it will bring about $700,000 more in taxes into the treasury of which approximately $400,000 will go to the general revenue fund."

The same member states further that work of equalization will be along the line of increased values of property out in the state.

The board is collaborating with the new State Tax Commission in considering the increase that is to be made over the valuation of last year.

INDIAN TIRES OF FARM SO ENLISTS IN ARMY.

Kansas City, June 10.—Sam H. Willis a Choctaw Indian, nineteen years old, and from Kiowa, Oklahoma, is tired of the oil fields of his native state. He wants to see something new—something in Germaany, for instance.

"I'm really a native with the oldest American blood in me," said Willis, in good English, to Corporal A. L. Anderson of the Army Recruiting Station here. "I'm tired of these new oil towns in Oklahoma and the new big farms that are all over America. I think France and the Rhine river country would be pretty good to see."

So Private Sam H. Willis will see something of other countries than the land of his ancestors, for he has enlisted for three years.

GOV. GARDNER'S VOTE MEANS $30,000 LOSS TO S. T. A.

Gardner Holds up the Appropriation Bill for State Institutions Until Released by His Order.

Governor Gardner has held up $29,500 of the appropriation of the State Teachers College of this city from payment until such time as released by his order. Saturday Governor Gardner vetoed items in the appropriation bill and for the College here it was $30,000.

The amount of money appropriated for state departments and state institutions held up by Givernor Gardner from payment until such time as released by his order is $1,297,256. This added to the amount of items he vetoed in the general appropriation bills last Saturday makes a total of $2,503,679.

The parts of appropriations suspended by the governor order were filed with the state auditor last night. In each instance the governor exacted a written contract with the parties concerned that no effort would be made to draw the money held in escrow, so to speak, unless released by his order. If the governor believes sufficient revenue has been collected to meet the various items held up, he will, at his option, release all or a part of the original amount.

The sums vetoed and the amount held up up will bring the total appropriation" within 18 million dollars as the governor estimated last Saturday, and within one million dollars of the estimated revenue. The state board of equalization will be expected to fill in the gap by increasing assessments of real estate, personal property and corporations about 20 per cent over the valuation of last year.

HOUND PUP TRAPS I. W. W.

Monrovia, Cal., June 10.—To one long-eared hound pup goes the honor of catching an I. W. W. in this district. Deputy Sheriff Couts, after firing two shots at the fleeing agitator, lost sight of the man in an orange grove. The pup was watching the chase, barking with glee. Couts, completely baffled, looked down at the dog which had run to his side. "Sic him, pup," said the sheriff. The hound pup ran down the orange grove a hundred yards, lifted his front paws against the trunk of a tree and, barking furiously, looked first up the tree, then at Couts. The sheriff followed and arrested the man.

Doctor Shelton, who lately returned from overseas, holds the commission of first lieutenant in the medical corps, and has been recommended for captain. LIGHTNING STRIKES BUT MAID FAILS TO AWAKEN

Logansport, Ind., June 10.—When lighning struck the home of W. W. McDonald near this city, a strip of the roof three feet wide was torn away, and the dresser in the room where the maid slept was completely demolished. Realizing that the room in which the maid slept had been hit, McDonald rushed upstairs expecting to find the girl dead. She was still sleeping.

GIRL KILLS SIX WOLVES.

Richmond, Mo., June 10.—Rose May Bowers, a sixteen-year-old Richmond school girl, earned $16 in a way that probably few other girls would care to earn money. GOT BOOZE AND GIRLS BUT ARRESTS FOLLOWED.

Kansas City, June 10.—"We want some booze, George. Can we get it here" asked two soldiers of James Warren, the negro porter of a hotel here.

"Yessah—yessah; but mah name's James, not George," said the porter as he turned to leave the room.

"All right, James; and a couple of girls, too," one replied.

"Sho, boss," replied the porter. Soon two girls and a bottle or two of booze came to the room.

Just then three men walked into the room and arrested the two girls. One of the men was Lieutenant Joe Haberkorn, in charge of the military police here. The other two were government agents. The negro porter, the hotel manager, with the two girls were arrested. The police are said to have refused to raid the hotel.

FILLS HOBO WITH SHOT; THOUGHT HIM GROUNDHOG.

Mitchell, Ind., June 10.—James Childers, a discharged soldier, took a shot gun and went out along the right-of-way of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern Railroad to look for ground hogs. He saw the grass move, fired and up jumped a tramp.

The tramp was brought to the office of a local surgeon and about eighty fine shot were picked from the man's face and body. The man had on several suits of clothing, which protected him from serious injury.

EXAM FOR CHAUFFEURS.

St. Louis, June 10.—Chauffeurs who are color blind, weak, have poor eyesight or poor hearing—or who happen to be subject to apoplexy—may soon be seeking other employment.

Directors of Streets and Sewers Talbert next week will open a "laboratory for the determination of the physical fitness of chauffeurs employed for hire. The first step will be to examine chauffeurs employed by the Columbia Transfer Company. This is to be done at the request of P. J. Kelleher, manager.

The examination will be to ascertain how far the men can see a traffic policeman; if they can distinguish colors; if they have good hearing and if they are subject to apoplexy. If the tests are found to work successfully, Talbert will introduce a measure in the Board of Aldermen requiring all chauffeurs to undergo the examination before licenses are issued.

"In the meantime," said the commissioner," I would like to have all persons interested submit suggestions for tests that might be adopted."

QUALITY and SERVICE.

SHE will never be happy until she has a home of her own. Hardly a day passes that she does not think of HER home, as she would have it. It is to be a place of comfort, contentment and harmony; it is to be practical, convenient, beautiful.

She has thought of its interior plan and sketched its room arrangements; she has pictured to herself just how it will look outside.

Nothing takes the place of this home, and NOW is the time to build. No man was ever better able to build than now—the price of building material as compared with other things it not at all unreasonable, and there is no chance of it getting cheaper. High wages, short age of labor and the increasing difficulty in getting out lumber, are responsible for increased prices, and these things will probably cause further advances.

However, none of us would return to the old low price levels, because there is more prosperity when great activity causes good prices—and no one can afford to go without a home in the expectation that prices will be lower, because if they do get lower, all money will be scarcer and the home will be harder to get than it is now.

New Structure Formally Opened in St. Louis of Which Former Maryville Man Is Pastor.

The Delmar Baptist church of St. Louis, of which the Rev. L. M. Hale, formerly of Maryville, is pastor, was dedicated Sunday. The following is from the St. Louis Republic:

The final and formal services in dedication of the new edifice of the Delmar Baptist church, Washington avenue and Skinker road, were held yesterday and last night, the sermons of dedication being preached by Dr. Len G. Broughton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Knoxville, Tenn., who is considered one of the foremost Baptist ministers of the world.

Large audiences attended the dedication services, joining the pastor, Rev. Lewis M. Hale, in setting apart the new church as a place of worship.

At the beginning of his sermon, Dr. Broughton congratulated the pastor and members of the Delmar on their achievement in erecting so beautiful a structure. He said that an achievement like that—the erection of an architecturally beautiful church—was a spiritual poem to him.

Dr. Broughton was for a number of years pastor of Christ Church, London, England, being called to that place while serving as pastor of one of the largest churches at Atlanta, Ga. He will return to Christ Church soon to fill an engagement lasting several months. He has made many lecture and preaching trips abroad.

JILTED, BUT IS REVENGED.

Kansas City, June 9.—A new way of venting spite against a girl who rejected his attentions was devised by Clarence Demeke, but it proved too costly for practical purposes. Demeke became infatuated with Miss Nora Helge, daughter of his landlady.

Rejected, he became angry, broke open her trunk, took all her dainty clothes and put them in a tub and poured water on them. Many of them were ruined. Miss Helge and her mother had him arrested and he was fined $100 in police court.

CATHOLICS ARE 19½ MILLION.

Estimates Based on Census Are Conservative, According to Directory.

New York, June 10.—There are 17,549,324 Catholics in the United States, according to the 1919 edition of the Official Catholic Directory just published and copyrighted by P. J. Kennedy & Sons of New York. This shows a net increase of 133,021 in the number of Catholics over the preceding year. Only nine dioceses show decreases. In some dioceses no new census was taken because of unsettled conditions last year.

This Catholic population is not overestimated, according to Joseph H. Meier who has compiled the directory the last fourteen years, the figure 17.549,324 is very conservative. If the "floating" Catholic population could be recorded and if it had been possible for every diocese in the country to take a new 1918 census, the Catholic population would total over 19½ million, according to Mr. Meier. Including the possessions there are 26,332,650 Catholics under the United States flag.

Other figures taken from the copyrighted summary show that there are in the United States proper: Archbishops 14; bishops, 97; Catholic priests, 20,588; secular clergymen, 15,052; fathers belonging to religious orders, 5,536; churches with resident priests, 10,460; missions with churches, 5,537; seminaries, 110; seminarians, 7,865; parishes with schools, 5,788; children attending parochial schools, 1,633,599; orphan asylums, 294; orphans, 46,069; homes for aged, 116; colleges for boys, 215; academies for girls, 674.

According to directory twenty-eight states have a Catholic population of one hundred thousand or over, as follows:

1—New York	3,089,266
2—Pensylvania	1,867,000
3—Illinois	1,481,789

HIGH COST OF MARRYING.

Boston, June 10.— They don't marry any more as they used to in the good old 1916 and 1917 and 1918.

Reason why? "The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker," says Edward W. McGlennon, registrar of marriages at City Hall.

"The scarcity of apartments and the high cost of butter are spoiling more than one good marriage, and prospects for improvement in 1920 are not so rosy, either," the gentleman continues to explain. "Don't blame Heaven, blame the times."

But if husbands are scarcer than of yore, they are much better brand. Who says so? Registrar McGlennon again.

Having watched the merry game of matrimony for these many years. Registrar McGlennon is to be listened to, when he speaks, as a connoisseur.

"And the husband of 1919 will be more patient, more economical, more staying in o' nights, more orderly and far more generous," says Registrar McGlennon. "He learned all these things inthe army. Yes, indeed, Miss 1919, if perchance she does not get a husband may well pity in her heart Miss 1917 For husbands this year are matrimonial models. But don't thank me, nor thank the husbands. Just pay your compliments to Flanders mud, and trench life, and army roll call, and military discipline, all of which gets a man ready to stand anything—just anything—even his wedding bells."

FLANDERS FIELD TO BE REPRODUCED AT BOSTON

Boston, June 10.—There will be a "Memory Garden" this year at Franklin Park.

Flanders Field poppies will be planted in June and through the Summer months they will gleam red among the other flowers in the herbaceous garden —a reminder of American blood that is mingled forever with the soil of France.

It is a shade smaller than the Oriental poppies, which are the variety with which we are most familiar in this country.

"It will go into the ground in June out at Franklin Park," said Park Commissioner James B. Shea, "and while it will probably never grow naturally in America, there is no reason that planted from year to year the Flanders poppy cannot always be blooming in the Summer season 'over here' as well as 'over there'."

Miss May Growney went to Burlington Junction Saturday and will spend her summer vacation at "Sunnycrest," as the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. P. Cummins.
